

Financial Incentives

UM decisions made by Sendero employees, practitioners, providers, delegates, and contractors must be based solely on appropriateness of care and service and existence of coverage. Sendero does not specifically reward practitioners or other individuals for issuing denials of coverage. Sendero does not have any financial incentives for UM decision makers that would encourage decisions that result in underutilization.